What We Do

A is for Apple's therapy services include:

- Child Behavior Assessments – We use both formal and informal assessments and observations to make the most effective interventions for your child.
- Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) Therapy – We use evidence-based practices to assess how your child behaves in his/her environment. Then we work to help them learn new behaviors.
- Early Intervention Services – If a child under 3 is at risk for developmental delays, we know what to do. Home-based sessions help them develop & grow.
- Speech-Language Therapy – Using a wide range of tools and interventions (toys, play-like therapy, formal testing), we help children learn to use & understand language.
- Occupational Therapy – We work to improve how your child performs daily activities, like dressing themselves, eating, staying safe, learning and playing.

Why Bring Your Child to A is for Apple?

Individual Treatment Plans: Your child receives an individual treatment plan, shaped by your child's needs and designed to help your child thrive.

Full Spectrum of Services: For children who require treatment for multiple conditions, A is for Apple can handle the full spectrum of treatments with collaboration between different disciplines (speech therapy, occupational therapy, and ABA therapy).

Evidence-Based Practices: All our therapies are based on the latest research, and visits are conducted by California-licensed, board-certified Behavior Program Supervisors.

Multilingual Therapy: We can provide therapy in 15 different languages, so your child learns in a familiar language at all times.

State-of-the-Art Therapy Tools & Techniques: For ABA therapy, we track a child's progress online, with reports and graphs you can access via our parent portal.

Insurance Coverage: We are in-network with all major health insurance plans.

Regional Centers: We work with Regional Centers throughout the San Francisco Bay Area to reach & help more parents and their children with therapy.

Our Mission

A is for Apple's mission is to create for each child a more independent, effective and improved quality of life. We are dedicated to helping children discover their unique potential, both socially and functionally. We have been and are guided by the principle that "the child's needs and best interests come first."

We are dedicated to
"Helping Children Thrive"
